

Join us every Saturday in the GRAM Education Center for Saturday All Day with the Arts. All Saturdays include art projects, family tours, and family guides. Visit Artmuseumgr.org and click on the Families button to learn more.

Office of Frank Lloyd Wright: Eugene Masselink, Eight-fold Screen, 1956, Stained walnut with paint and gilt, Museum Purchase, 2006.
 Pablo Picasso, Woman in a Mantilla with a Flower, Carmen Ferrnne in a mantilla over her hair; Carmen, 1949, Sugar-lift aquatint on Archer woven paper, Museum Purchase, Jack H. Miller, 2001, 13.
 Charles Burchfield, Song of the Bobolink, 1952-55, Watercolor on paper, Gift of Mary Ives Huntington, 1962, 13.
 George Hitchcock, Purple Hyacinths, c. 1890, Oil on canvas, Museum Purchase, Endowment for American Art Fund and Mrs. David G. Fry, Mr. Samuel M. Cummings, Daniel and Remala and Helen DeVos Foundation in honor of Ethel DeVos, 2001, 3.
 Will Howe Foote, Sunlit Interior, c. 1914, Oil on canvas, Gift of Mabel H. Perkins, 1965, 12.

1. _____
 2. _____
 3. _____

What are three words that describe this woman?
 Can you find the flower in the woman's hair? Draw it here:

Now let's head to the third floor to find Picasso's Woman in a Mantilla with a Flower. A mantilla is a lace scarf that is worn over the head and shoulders. It is popular in Spain.

Could you imagine having this screen in your house? Where would you put it and what would you do with it?

Let's start on the first floor... Can you find Eight-fold Screen by Eugene Masselink? This large painting is actually a screen. Normally, it would be set up on the floor and act like a movable wall. What do you think it is made of? (Hint: The answer is something that can be found in nature!) What shapes do you see painted on the screen? Why do you think Masselink used gold and green paint?

The warm weather has finally arrived in West Michigan and flowers popping up everywhere—even inside the art museum! Join us in welcoming spring to the city with Art in Bloom. This special family gallery guide will lead you to amazing works of art that showcase beautiful floral designs.

1. _____
 2. _____

Be sure to write down the title and artist! You can also draw the flowers you find in the circles below!

For example, in Sunlit Interior by Will Howe Foote, there are 3 places where flowers are painted. Circle all three places in the example here! Can you find 2 more paintings with flowers in them? Be sure to write down the title and artist! You can also draw the flowers you find in the circles below!

Can you find Song of the Bobolink by Charles Burchfield?

What kind of flower do you think is pictured in this painting? Circle your answer below!

- A. Pansy
- B. Dandelion
- C. Orchid
- D. Lily

Look for the bird in the painting, Draw it here!

Imagine that you are in the painting. Would you feel warm or cold? Why?
 _____
 _____

Can you find Purple Hyacinths by George Hitchcock?

Where is the windmill in this painting? Draw it here!

If you were standing in this field what do you think it would smell like? Why?

Great job! Now let's look at both of these paintings and compare them to each other.

How are the paintings similar? _____

How are the paintings different? _____

Which one do you like better? Why? _____